

RABINDRA BHARATI UNIVERSITY

Department of Sanskrit, RBU

is organising a Workshop on Kāraprakaraṇam based on Vaiyākaraṇa Siddhānta Kaumudī and Ancient Scripts in collaboration with IQAC,RBU from 17.11.2025 (Monday) to 21.11..2025 (Friday)

Introduction

Sanskrit grammar is the foundation for understanding India's intellectual traditions, and Vaiyākaraṇa Siddhānta Kaumudī by Bhaṭṭoji Dīkṣita is considered one of the most authoritative texts in the field. Among its many sections, Kāraprakaraṇam holds a special place as it explores the intricate relationship between verbs and their associated agents, instruments, and objects. This knowledge is vital for students, scholars, and researchers who wish to engage deeply with Sanskrit linguistics, philosophy, and textual interpretation. In order to promote a practical and interactive understanding of this subject, this proposal aims to organise a specialized workshop on Kāraprakaraṇam according to Vaiyākaraṇa - Siddhānta - Kaumudī, supplemented with sessions on ancient scripts to connect grammatical theory with traditional writing systems.

Objectives

- To provide participants with a thorough grounding in Kāraprakaraṇam concepts.
- To explore the grammatical framework within Bhaṭṭoji - Dīkṣita's Siddhānta - Kaumudī.
- To train participants in reading and understanding ancient Indian scripts, enabling direct access to manuscripts.
- To encourage research methodology in Sanskrit grammar with manuscript-based learning.
- To create an academic platform for exchanging ideas between Sanskrit scholars, researchers, and students.
